The Clerk-How say you? Do you hold the risoner at the ber guilty or not guilty Mr. Arnold-Not Gulty.

As these words fell from the lips of the foreman, there was one wild, thrilling, tumultuous turral sent up by the speciators. Cheer after cheer resounded in the Court-room, and was taken up by the multitude on the outside and vopeated. Hats and handkerchiefs wave, wavel and there was one general mish towards the dock. In the midst of the uproar, the stentorian voice of Mr. Stanton was heard addressing the Court in these words-"I move that lekles be discharged from custody." Marshal Selden-Come to order, gentlemen; this is a place where there should be no Mr. Stanton, boiling over with excitement.

said, - In the name of Mr. Sickles and counsel, desire to return thanks to the jury. Judge Crawford, who appeared to be the only person in court not excited, said, " Mr. Stanon, wait till the vertict is recorded." --The Clerk-[to jury]-Your verdict is, that our find Daniel E. Sicklei Not Guilty."

The jury noded affirmulatively, Mr. Standon-I now move that Mr. Siekles discharged from costady.

Judge Crawford - The Court so orders.

Mr. Stanton, Intuing around, said, Now go The Judgo said, " No misse." . -The precaution was not beeded. Sickles amid the tenewed cheers of the audience, was taken out of the dock. Capt. Wiley and Mr.

Brega, the furmer who is one of Sickles' most devoted friends; kissed him at the moment of deliverance, and held fast by him as they tried to make their way to the door. It was slow work, for congratalation, earnest, loud, and frankly expressed, saluted Sickles on all sides. Though strong emotion was exhibited, his eyo was calm and steady, and the effort which he manifestly made to retain calmness and composure was successful. His expression belrayed no feeling of joy, but was rather that of a man who felt as though he had run no risk, and that the trial through which he had passed could have had no other result.

During the past fifteen years, hundreds of thousands of persons, in England and America, in both public and private life, have learned to write Phonography, and thousands of business tetters are unity pass through the post office, Not is its great popularity to be wondered at.

The present system of writing is exceedingly cumbersome, and totalty inworthy these days of progress and invention. Pho ography i equally as legitle, can be learned in one twentieth the time, and can be written six times us fail ! In other words, the labor of six days entibe performed in one-one man can do the work of six! So simple is the system, too, that Of superior Quality, both White and Red, at rea person may learn to write it slowly, in a couple of hours. An hour's daily practice for a few weeks will enable any person to write Phonegraphy with certainty, and with some degree of freedom. The same amount of practice continued for six months will enable a person to take reports of speeches, lectures, sermons, or conversation, and to read them with accuracy. Dr J. W. Stone, of Hoston, says; "I deem Phonography on invaluable adjunct to educa. SURGEON DENTIST, NEWMARKET BAKERY tion, and one which, when acquired in youth,
